THIRTY-THIRD CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION.

Senate, Thursday, March 16, 1854. Senate, Thursday, March 16, 1854.

The Chair laid before the Senate a communication from the War Department, transmitting the report of the Board of Commissioners appointed to investigate the claims against the United States arising out of the war in California; which was read, and after some remarks by Mr. Gwin, urging some speedy action on the claims, it was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

After the presentation of petitions and making of reports.

Mr. Rusk reported a bill to establish a mail route in California; which was considered and passed.

Mr. Dodge, of Iowa, reported a bill regula-ting the issuing of patents in cases of Louisiana private land claims, and the same was consid-private land claims, and the same was considered and passed.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the resolution respecting the right of the Hon. S. S. Phelps to retain his seat as Senator from Vermont.

Mr. Mason and Mr. Toucey addressed the Senate in opposition to the right of Mr. Phelps to retain his seat.

Mr. Geyer followed in support of the claim of Mr. Phelps, and Mr. Stuart replied.

House of Representatives, March 16, 1854. Mr. — asked leave to present a report of the proceedings of a meeting of citizens of New York, held on Tuesday evening, March 14, (in opposition to the Nebraska bill;) which was objected to.

A communication was received from the

A communication was received from the Clerk of the House, asking leave to amend his estimate of the contingent expenses of this body, and to increase it to $20,000. Referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Giddings moved to reconsider the vote by which the message of the President was yesterday referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs. Mr. G. said that he deeply reeign Affairs. Mr. G. said that he deeply regretted, yesterday, that no gentleman, either friendly or unfriendly to the Administration, had called attention to the extraordinary document the President had sent to this House.

Mr. G. recited the incidents of the seizure or the capture of the Black Warrior. The name of that steamer seemed indeed ominous. The proprietors of that steamer not only violated the laws of Spain, but truth itself, in the manifest she bore—truth and fair dealing. The conduct of the Spanish authorities was not unusual. All nations enforce similar laws, and Cuba enforces these laws against all nations. The Black Warrior had been as legally seized as had the British steamers by our Government recently at New York and Boston. No voice from England had remonstrated against our conduct; nor had England remonstrated in the cases of vessels belonging to her subjects seized by the Spanish authorities at Cuba under like circumstances.

Mr. G. said that when the resolution had been presented, asking information from the Executive in regard to this case, there was not a single dissenting voice. Information was de-sired by all. But what has the President sired by all. But what has the President given us? "All the information in the case." But what else? This is the first instance in which a President has ever travelled out of the record so far as to force his opinions upon the House of Representatives in response to a simple inquiry into facts. It is unprecedented, and should call up the indignation of the House. But the President has not only done this, but he has given us voluminous information in relation to other wrongs and insults, which he alleges have been received by the United States.

Is it indeed true that the Government of the United States has in past times pocketed insults offered to it by the authorities of Cuba? Where and when have we acted so have a part?

Is it true? If so, how are we dishonered? If it is not true, who is the defamer of our nation? Weak, powerless, enervated, Spain, it is af-firmed, has thus degraded us, and the information thereof is given to us at this late day, in response to an inquiry relating to another distinct and specific subject. And this, too, in eonnection with a dictatorial message from a President who has not the strength of the par-ty that supported his election, whether upon this floor or elsewhere—a man whose sceptre has departed from his grasp, and who cannot rely upon either constitutional or popular sup-port in any measure he may venture upon soned him to act thus? I know the man: I served with him in this hall. I am an older man than he, and have seen more service—in legislation, I mean, and not in war. My service of that kind has been brief, and was performed, not on horseback, but on foot, and that without fainting. But this is an epi-

This President, Mr. Speaker, should be re-buked for the intrusiveness and offensiveness buked for the intrusiveness and offensiveness of his communication to this House. I will respect him in his official position, but he must not transcend the power with which it invests him. But he has not ventured upon tampering with the other branch of Congress, and should not be for a moment tolerated in his attempt to tamper with this.

The resolve of the President, however, and of the Slave Power in behalf of which he acts, is a foregone resolve. It is to arrest the tend-ency toward civilization in Cuba. Fear has seized upon the minds of the slaveholding peo-ple of the United States, that the shackles are ple of the United States, that the shackles are to fall from the slaves of Cuba, and the desire is to thwart that great and beneficent work. This is the policy which the President calls upon us to interrupt, even by means of warlike demonstrations and by deeds of conquest.

Everything adapted to resist the spread of Slavery must be resisted by our Government. The press of the South, as well as the legislators of the South and the President subject to their influence all units in the same deto their influence, all unite in the same de-mand. The prolongation of Slavery, and the extension of its rule, are held to be paramount to all other considerations. Mr. G. described the tenor of the articles in the Pro-Slavery press, and read an extract from the South Car-olina Herald, in which the preservation of Sla-very in Cuba was held to be of far greater ent than any interest involved in the Ne-

Mr. Giddings also alluded to resolves the newspapers had reported as being before the Louisiana Legislature, protesting against the emancipation of slaves in Cubs.

Mr. Perkins, of Louisiana, said the Louisiana Legislature had adjourned, and that the resolutions had simply been presented, and were not adopted.

Mr. Giddings said he would not do Louisian

Mr. Jones, of Louisiane, said the statement made by Mr. Giddings was false, and he did not believe he had rend it in any newspaper.

Mr. Giddings said it was idle for gentlemen to think of disturbing him or divesting him from his purpose. He had given his only authority for the statement made, and when the gentleman says he does not believe that I so derived it. Leartainly do not believe him. rived it, I certainly do not believe him.

Mr. Jones wished to speak further.

Mr. Giddings. No, I can grant no courtesy o a man who doubts my truth, and will have nothing to do with him. The time chosen for the summing up of past offences received from Spain, is worthy of note. It is when England and France are just entering into a struggle demanding their naval forces—when the Cross and the Crossent are in conflict, and when it is presumed that Spain

But, said Mr. Giddings, if a conflict must be brought about with Spain, I trust that God will aid the right. I trust that the slave-propagating invaders of Cuba may there find a whole people of freemen, and that in the hands of emancipated thousands may be found arms, and capabilities of successful resistance. Were I a Cuban emancipado, as God is my judge, I would defend the land that gave me freedom until the latest moment of my life; and, rather than submit to the bondage of the oppressor, I would that my bones should whiten on the field of human elaughter.

Mr. Bayly followed, and on his motion, the motion for reconsideration was laid on the table.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the Deficiency bill.

To those persons who may visit Washington, and are in want of a boot that cannot be excelled, either in quality or workmanship, we would call their attention to the card of Henry Janney, to be found under the head of "Washington." A handsome and neatly-made boot is not at all times a source of pleasure to the wearer, but often one of extreme torture; this is caused by the bungling manner in which the boot is fitted to the foot. Mr. Janney has devoted much of his time in studying the construction of the human foot, in order to ascertain how a boot should be cut and fitted, that will be perfectly easy to all parts of the foot. In this he has succeeded, so that it matters not what may be the shape of, or the number of corns on the foot, his boot is perfectly easy. Thus he has combined beauty with comfort.

DOOK AGENTS and Colporteurs wanted, to sell the "OLD BREWERY." This extraordinarily popular work is destined to have a larger sale than Mrs. Stowe's famous book. The first edition demanded was 30,000 copies, which is without example in the history of book publishing. Five hundred thousand readers are ready to purchase this wonderful history of reform at the "Five Points," when an opportunity is presented. Its thrilling narratives have received the unanimous verdict of unqualified praise from the secular and religious press.

No. 222 Broadway, N. Y.

I HEREBY constitute Mr. Simon Willard, No. 5 Congress street, Boston, sole agent for the sale of my Watches in the United States of America.

April 15, 1853. CHARLES FRODSHAM.

The undersigned, having been appointed sole Agent in the United States for the sale of Charles Frodsham's Improved Timekeepers, would respectfully call public attention to his extensive and valuable stock of Compensated Chronometer Watches, made by Charles Frodsham, and styled his "New Series." In the Watches of the new series, Mr. Frodsham has succeeded—by a more perfect method of compensation, a more correct adjustment in isochronism, and an entirely new and peculiar construction of the train, by which more power is obtained without increase of size—in producing timekeepers of wonderful and unrivalled accuracy. The great importance of the improved Watches is a perfect regularity of time, under every variety of climate, motion, and position. So perfect are the adjustments, that the most violent exercise—such as horseback riding, jumping, &c.—produces on them no sensible effect. They are therefore peculiarly adapted to railroad purposes.

The scientific French critic, Mons. Borsendorf, in his review of the Great London Exhibition of 1851, styles the contribution of Mr. Charles Frodsham as "bearing the stamp of peculiar merit, and as being the flower of the English school."

The British Government have awarded Messra. Arnold and Charles Frodsham the sum of £3,170, for the excellence of the principle of their timekeepers.

One of Mr. Frodsham's correspondents writes as follows:

London, April 26, 1852. April 15, 1853. CHARLES FRODSHAM.

LONDON, April 26, 1852.

Sin: I have much pleasure in giving an account of the Gold Compensation Lever Watch No. 3,325, you have made for me, and in which I expressly stipulated that it should maintain a uniform rate of going under every variety of motion and climate. This it has done in a most remarkable manner; its rate of going for the first six months was five seconds per month, and in the next six months it changed its rate a little faster, vix: eight seconds per month, and at the end of 365 days it was found to be fast of Greenwich mean time one minute and fifteen seconds. Though I was not led by any previous promise to expect such performance, yet I believe it is only the usual character of your improved watches, which you term your "new series."

I remain, sir, yours, respectfully,

Thomas Bartlett.

To Mr. Charles Frodsham.

That our own opinion of this remarkable book may not seem exaggerated, we publish the following arti-cle, written by one of the editors of the Evening Traveller: "Mesers J. P. Jewett & Co. have in press and will shortly publish, a tale of deep interest, entitled 'The Lamplighter.' The scene is laid in Boston and immediate vicinity, and its author is believed to be a Bostonian, or a resident of this neighborhood. We accidentally fell in with some of the proof-sheets of the work, the other day, and, after reading a hundred or more pages, we have no hecitation in pronouncing it one of the most original, interesting, graphic, and affecting tales, thus far, that has lately appeared. It is quite equal, to say the least, to 'Wide, Wide World,' though not what would be called a religious novel. If the work is completed with the ability which is displayed in the first part of it—and we have no reason to doubt that it will be—we predict for it a sale and popularity equal to the most successful of modern romances, such as Uncle Tom alone excepted."—Evening Traveller, Jam. 27, 1854.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE-1854. A beautiful Engraving in each Number THE LIVING AGE has been abundantly honored by the approbation of the best judges; it has been pronounced to be sound and vigorous; various and entertaining; full of spirit and life; uniting the qualities which gratify the scholar, the philosopher, and the man of business, with those which recommend it to their wives and children. Every Number will contain an Impression from a beautiful Steel Plate.

This work is made up of the elaborate and stately essays of the Edinburgh, Quarterly, and other Reviews; and Blackwood's noble criticisms on poetry, his keen political commentaries, highly wrought tales, and vivid descriptions of rural and mountain scenery; and the contributions to literature, history, and common life, by the esgacious Spectator, the sparkling Examiner, the judicious Athenaum, the busy and industrious Literary Gazette, the sensible and comprehensive Britannia, the sober and respectable Christian Observer; these are intermixed with the military and naval reminiscences of the United Service, and with the best articles of the Dublin University, New Monthly, Fraser's, Tair's, Ainmourth's, Hood's, and Sporting Magazines, and of Chambers' admirable Journal. We do not consider it beneath our dignity to borrew wit and wisdom from Panch; and, when we think it good enough, make use of the thunder of The Times. We shall increase our variety by importations from the continent of Europe, and from the new growth of the British colonies.
